

My life as a woman in ww1 by Daniel Brown

My name is Jackie I am married and my husband is in the war, his not killed yet my children have died I am very sad, angry but I work in the ammunicions factory I am sick sometimes of the powder getting I n my lungs.

I am enjoying my new job as a land army volunteer. I have to get up really early to bike to farm I am working at. There are other women working with me which is strange to see working in the fields. At the farm I milk cows, drive and the plough, and catch rats Pick vegetables, fruit.

I feel upset because I can't see my family as often as I want. After a long day at work I still lots of thing to do. I started cooking, laundry and cleaning up.
