My version of Flo of the Somme

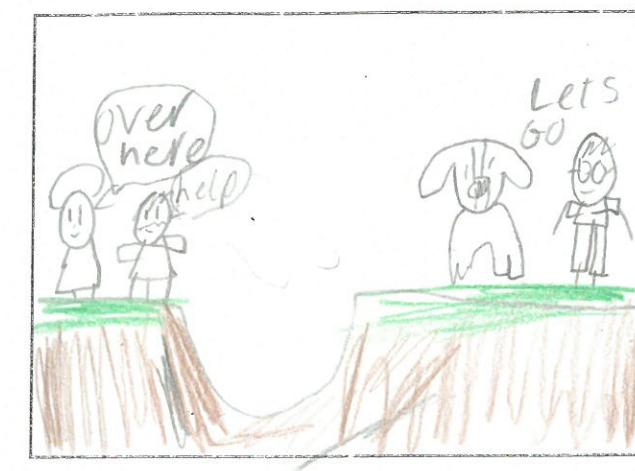

There was once a dog named Flo. She was a mercy dog that saved lives.

Flo was very friendly, cute and had big bright shiny blue eyes and a shimmering black nose.

The pigeon was shot in the wing while trying to bring a message. Because its wing was shot, it could not keep flying so it diagonally flew to the ground.

Early one morning, captain Jake was looking at the sky, his eyes spotted a pigeon and it was flying with only one wing.

Captain Jake read the message over loud and went to tell Flo and Ray. Ray put Flo's medical kit on and Ray got ready to and set off on a journey. And they found the pilots.

After that they came back with the pilots everyone cheered and were happy when the people saw Flo-Ray until the two pilots. They said "Yay! There back" "Yes" and other things everyone was happy.
